DESPITE UNION WARNING

Vernon Staff Will Not Strike

VERNON (Staff) — Jubilee Hospital employees here do not plan to strike despite a warning from William Black, secretary of the Hospital Employees Union to Health Minister Eric Martin that workers will leave their jobs immediately if hospital payrolls are not met.

Lawrence T. Muirhead, administrator of Jubilee Hospital said there has been no indication employees will strike and said they have been very cooperative while there is some hardship because of the hospital's inability to meet the payroll.

Mr. Muirhead said the cheques to employees were not issued as the Association bylaw curtails borrowing from the banks in excess of $15,000. The semi-monthly payroll amounts to about $22,500, and a new bank

Officer Faces Court Martial

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian Army lieutenant serving in the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East has been charged in connection with a theft and faces a general court martial, the army said today.

The army said the officer faces charges of theft or, alternatively, of negligence in performance of his duties. It declined to identify him before the court martial, expected this week.

INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY LEAGUE FORMED FOR VALLEY IN '62-63

VERNON (CP) — Amateur hockey took a faltering step along the comeback trail Sunday with the formation of an Okanagan intermediate league. The league is set up along the lines of the disbanded Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

It will match teams from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton-Summerland, all of which had OSHL teams.

Walter (Moose) Martin of Penticton was elected president of the new league. Other officers are Mike Shabaga, a player for the Penticton Vees when they won the world hockey title, representing Kamloops, Don Jakes of Vernon and Jim Middleton of Kelowna.

Red China Charges US With Spy Plan Tactics

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist China, reporting it shot down one of two U-2 planes the Chinese Nationalists bought from the United States, charged today the flight over Communist soil was part of a U.S. spy program.

The Nationalists confirmed that one of the high-altitude U-2's they have been operating for nearly two years disappeared Sunday on a "routine" reconnaissance mission over the China mainland.

A Nationalist spokesman said the U-2's were bought from the Lockheed Corporation in the United States in 1960 and put into operation in December of that year.

A U.S. state department spokesman said the U-2 purchases were made with U.S. approval, but that operation of the planes were solely a Nationalist matter.

Officials admitted privately, however, that it "could be as-

No Reason For Calling U.S. Troops

OSLO, Norway (AP) — NATO Secretary-General Dirk Stikker said today there is nothing in the present world situation to cause President Kennedy to call up 150,000 reservists immediately.

Stikker told a press conference he could understand why the U.S. president had asked Congress for authority to call up the reservists since it would permit him to meet any new crisis that develops while Congress is in recess.

"Serious Consequences" If Missiles Set In Cuba

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A high U.S. government official warned Sunday that any Russian attempt to set up long-range offensive missiles in Cuba would bring "the most serious consequences."

A Canadian university professor said talk of missile bases in Cuba is common and a Havana dispatch from a Reuters news agency correspondent told of passing by a truck carrying a huge, rounded nose about 30 feet long and eight feet high, with Russian lettering on the side.

"I wondered what was inside," wrote Reuters correspondent John Bland.

Sunday, Paul Nitze, assistant secretary of defence for international security affairs, told a television audience that the Soviet arms buildup in Cuba is of a defensive nature so far, but still is of concern because "it helps Castro to consolidate his position and thereby increases the possibility Cuba could be used as a base for Communist penetration of the rest of the hemisphere."

He said if Russia tries to set up long range offensive missiles in Cuba, it "would have the most serious consequences."

A sharp rise in the flow to deliveries from the Soviet bloc started in July and included not only economic help needed by the Cuban regime of Premier Fidel Castro but also large amounts of military material.

INCLUDES MISSILES

The arms appeared to be mainly early-model ground-to-air missiles and electronic equipment. About 3,500 Soviet military "technicians" also arrived — possibly to train the Cubans in the use of the new equipment.

The Canadian returned to Miami from Cuba during the weekend.

Roy Officer, 29, who said he was a professor of geography at Waterloo University, said Soviet-bloc influence has reached almost every facet of life from clothing to literature to food, Officer said.

Talk of missile bases in Cuba is common "but my friends

there complain that 'Fidel doesn't tell us anything.'"

Correspondent Bland told of driving to a big camp outside Havana where he said he saw several hundred Russians domiciled. Bland said he was trailed by three civilians in another car during his tour Saturday.

The camp, spread over many acres on the site of a former reformatory, was guarded by four-barrelled anti-aircraft guns of Soviet make.

THREE REPORTERS FEARED CAPTURED

HAVANA (CP) — Three reporters representing Western press organizations failed to return home today and there were fears they may have been picked up by Cuban security officials.

Missing were John Bland of Reuters, Paul Casanov, a New York Times representative in Cuba, and Casanova's wife, Sarita Valdes, who works for the National Broadcasting Company.

They left Sunday morning for a brief motor trip to the outskirts of Havana. Bland, a British citizen, left word they would be back for lunch. They had not returned to their homes by this morning.

Kennedy Requires Troops To Respond With Speed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defence Secretary McNamara today said President Kennedy requires authority to call up 150,000 reservists so the United States can respond "promptly and decisively" if the international situation worsens suddenly.

McNamara appeared before the senate armed services committee with Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, to urge speedy approval of a resolution submitted to Congress Friday by the White House.

McNamara said the regular U.S. military forces "are strong today, and their strength continues to improve."

"The authority for a limited call-up of reserves, however, would provide us with a flexibility of response which could be crucial if the international situation deteriorates suddenly and specific crises occur," he said.

McNamara testified behind closed doors but reporters were given copies of some of his prepared testimony.

Mariner 11

WASHINGTON (AP) — The following report on the progress of Mariner II was released today by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Mariner II, launched Aug. 25, is expected to pass within 9,000 miles of Venus Dec. 14.

Mariner at 8 a.m. EDT today: Distance from the earth — 2,366,251 miles. Miles to go — 177,833,749 miles. Radio signal: Good.

Thieves Grab Jewellery

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Thieves struck twice this weekend at homes on Suffolk County's fashionable south shore and made off with more than $143,000 in jewels and cash.

The "millionaire's row" estate of Mr. and Mrs. Francesco Zura in Southampton was burglarized of an estimated $75,000 in jewelry and $150 in cash Saturday night or early Sunday while the Zuras were out at a party, police said.

The other reported theft occurred Sunday night in West Babylon when burglars removed a two-foot square safe containing $70,000 in cash from the bedroom of Vincent 770 while the family was attending an engagement party for a daughter, police said.

Soblen Suffers Brain Damage

LONDON — Dr. Robert Soblen, still unconscious four days after taking an overdose of barbiturates, is suffering from "serious" brain damage and frequent convulsions, it was disclosed today.

Dr. C. G. B. Barnes, consultant physician treating the 61-year-old fugitive spy, said damage resulted after the barbiturates interrupted the supply of oxygen to the brain.

LONDON (CP from Reuters, AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan and Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath today laid Britain's case for joining the European Common Market before the anxious leaders of the Commonwealth.

A formal communique issued after the end of the first day's sessions of the 10-day Commonwealth prime ministers' conference said Macmillan made:

"A full statement of the political and economic case for joining the community subject to satisfactory safeguards for other Commonwealth members, members of the European Free Trade Association and British agriculture."

Heath, Britain's chief negotiator at the Brussels talks with the six Common Market members, gave the Commonwealth leaders "a detailed account on the stage reached" on the British application for membership, the communique said.

Daily Flights Set Penticton To Kamloops

PENTICTON (CP) — Penticton Flying Services Limited said today service will start immediately on daily return passenger flights from Penticton to Kamloops.

The Department of Transport has authorized the run, with stops at Vernon, by four Cessna Skyhawks.

Company president William Gaele said the service will enable Canadian Pacific Airlines' passengers landing here to proceed directly to Vernon or Kamloops.

Travellers from Kamloops and Vernon will be able to connect with afternoon CPA flights from Penticton to Vancouver.

More Jobless This Winter Says Douglas

NELSON (CP) — Canada's austerity program will "kill the patient it is intended to cure," New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas said here this weekend.

Speaking at a rally for H. W. Herridge, re-elected to Kootenay West in the June 18 federal election, Mr. Douglas said Saturday:

"This belt-tightening will not solve our problems but cause more unemployment. I predict unemployment will go over the 1,000,000 mark this winter. Canada doesn't need to tighten its belt. She needs to increase productivity."

Algeria To Elect First Legislature

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy attempts to organize an orderly national administration, mainly because of their fear of being placed under Boumedienne's command.

The constitution stipulated after a week-long civil war and evacuated the city several hours before Boumedienne's forces arrived.

STILL HAS OPPOSITION

Only the guerrillas of Kabylie Mountain wily No. 3 remain as an important stronghold of anti-Ben Bella politicians.

Some of Ben Bella's leading rivals were believed to have taken refuge in the Kabylie range east of Algiers, where the regular forces have not yet penetrated. The refugees included Mohammed Boudiaf, once Ben Bella's only opponent on the political bureau, who resigned in protest against the military invasion of the rebel held areas.

LATE FLASHES

Head-On Crash Kills Two At Lytton

LYTTON (CP) — A head-on car crash on a highway curve took the lives of two Vancouver men three miles south of here Sunday night. RCMP identified them as Albert Roger Hand, 30, and Frank Ballie, 59, both employees of the Marwell Construction Company working on a project near Kamloops.

Giant Telescope Planned For New Universe View

NORWALK, Conn. (AP)—Scientists will float a giant telescope 80,000 feet above the earth early next year, and, by means of television, view the universe as it has never been seen before.

People First Says Union

MONTREAL (CP)—The president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-CIO-CLC) said today the labor movement has kept government and lawmakers aware that people are always a nation's first consideration.

Gordon M. Freedman of Washington said that is why he believes that Russia's boast of burying the West will work the other way around. "I believe we will bury them (Russians) because in our two countries we are now, and have always been, more concerned about the welfare of our people than . . . throwing our weight around as nations."

Astronaut To Orbit Earth Despite Radiation Belt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The radiation belt caused by the U.S. high altitude nuclear explosion may cause some changes in the space program, but it won't harm astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. on his scheduled six-orbit flight later this month, government scientists say.

The report issued by three government agencies also said that the two Russian cosmonauts who orbited the earth last month received small doses of radiation from the belt.

Scientists from the Atomic Energy Commission, the defense department and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration made the joint study of the radiation belt which extends from 200 to 700 miles above the earth. It was created by the U.S. high altitude nuclear explosion of last July 9 over Johnston Island in the Pacific.

The scientists noted that radiation from the belt had caused rapid deterioration of solar cells in three satellites—the British Ariel and the U.S. Traac and Transit 4B.

Despite the damage to the three satellites, the scientists said Friday that astronaut Schirra will be exposed to a dose of only about eight roentgens during his planned six-

Dr. Martin Schwarzschild of Princeton University, director of the project, hopes his heavenly apparatus will enable him to get a close look at the "white dots" on Venus and the "canals" of Mars.

He said the sightings may give support to the view that there is life on Mars, or raise serious doubts about it.

TO COST $336,000
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is financing the first $336,000 flight of Stratoscope II to take a close look at Mars.

Once aloft, the entire balloon contraption — stretching in length to nearly the height of the Washington Monument — will sway to and fro like a clock pendulum.

The Washington monument is 555 feet, five inches in height. But motors and special television cameras will keep the Roentgens are units of measurement for radiation. It takes 25 roentgens for changes in the blood to occur. Exposure to between 200 and 400 roentgens can result in radiation sickness and sometimes death.

The scientists said that Schirra's capsule likely will be exposed to 500 roentgens during the flight but because of its construction and his space suit, this will be cut to about eight roentgens on his skin.

"This exposure is well below the mission limit previously established by NASA for the manned flight program," the report said.

UNDER REVIEW
Because of this, they said, future NASA space missions are being reviewed "in the light of the present information concerning the new belt."

The report added that it is likely "a substantial number" of projects will be changed to avoid radiation damage.

Stair coverings should be examined regularly to ensure they will not slip or snag heels and cause falls.

NEW THEATRE

Hard Working People Have Created A Reality

By BETHEL STEELE
Bravo, Kelowna, we have a theatre. And when I say this I am referring to a building which from the standpoint of sound, could, when the stage is completely dressed, be on a par with any theatre its size in Canada.

As it is now, Kelownians can attend the opening concert on Thursday night, assured that they will be able to see and hear from every seat in the house. The acoustics are magnificent as of now. The building is alive. Solo voices and instruments can be heard in their true sound and a whisper from a speaking voice can be heard from the back of the house.

For Theatre Still Available

Ticket chairman for the official opening of the new Kelowna Community Theatre Ken Harding announced today that 550 reserved seats have been sold for the concert this Thursday evening.

Kin Reunited After 77 Years

A brother and sister who had not seen or heard from each other in 77 years were reunited recently in Kelowna.

Joseph McDougall of Walla Walla, Wash., who is 92, met with his sister Mrs. Martha Herard, 95, of Kelowna at a family gathering at the Glenmore Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Spear.

Mr. McDougall left home at the age of 14, and in the course of his travels lost contact with his family whose home was in Winipeg. Quite by accident, he learned his oldest sister, Mrs. Herard, lived here. Hale and hearty, the brother is still very interested in all that goes on, his sister enjoyed good health until recently.

Also at the reunion was the late McDougall's son, Robert, his wife and two sons from Yakima,

Too Much Too Soon In Room

A drinking party with a new found acquaintance on the weekend cost Lawson Clarke, a truck driver from Fort St. John, his watch, cigarette lighter and wallet containing $31.

Police said today that Clarke had reported to them on Saturday, he had been drinking in a Kelowna hotel room with his friend and had "passed out."

When he awoke the wallet, lighter and watch were missing—and so was the friend. He believes someone entered the room while he slept and removed the articles in question.

Police are investigating. The Parkview Motel at 225 Harvey avenue reported to police this morning that someone had stolen three small cement figures of ducks from the motel's lawn and had, at the same time, damaged the flower bed.

CITY COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Kelowna city council will take place tonight in the council chambers, Mayor R. F. Parkinson presiding. Last meeting was held Aug. 27 and adjourned to the call of the chair as Sept. 3, regular meeting night, was on the Labor Day holiday weekend.

Cooler Again - And Unsettled

Cool unsettled weather is the offering for the next few days. A cool Pacific mass has spread over B.C. bringing cloudy skies and showers to most areas.

Present indications are that it's here to stay for awhile, said the weather synopsis.

Over the weekend temperatures Saturday were 69 and 37 as compared to 71 and 45 in 1961 and on Sunday 78 and 50 with 17 inch of rain of compared to 76 and 46 last year.

DR. TRUEMAN ... a message

Dr. Trueman Will Speak To UN Group

Dr. H. L. Trueman, BSA, LL.D., executive secretary of the committee of the United Nations Association of Canada for the Kelowna High School auditorium at 8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 14.

Sponsors of the program will be the Kelowna branch of the United Nations Association, according to an announcement made today by executive director of the branch, A. S. Matheson.

Dr. Trueman is now touring western Canada, speaking on the greatest humanitarian and peace-promoting challenge ever presented to Canada and the other advanced nations, namely, Freedom From Hunger campaign, according to Mr. Matheson.

The campaign has been planned during the past three years by the UN and its food and agriculture organization. It is now being launched on a world-wide scale.

Dr. Trueman has been one of Canada's outstanding experts for the past 40 years on this subject. He has represented the government and the UN association at many international conferences.

Province's Flag Atop Courthouse For First Time

The province's emblematic flag will fly today for the first time from the courthouse.

Running it up the new tubular steel flagpole specially built for it today will be government agent Rosa Ostman. Mr. Ostman said the flag has been around for a year or so but until now there was no place to fly it.

On a trip to England several years ago, Premier Bennett discovered the flag which had been designed and registered and "revived" it during the 1958 provincial centennial.

One now flies at the Lake toll bridge and at the opening of the Dr. Knox School in 1961, Premier Bennett presented a flag to the school.

Ball Players Receive Trophies

VERNON (Staff) — During a brief ceremony Sunday in Polson Park here, Vernon Luckies president Buck Davis and club secretary Curly Jellison made trophy presentations to two of Vernon's ace ball players.

Alex Kashuba received the Jim Holt annual best team batting average trophy with a year's average of .441.

The Joe Watkins trophy for the most valuable player for the year on the club's roster went to left handed pitcher Gary Barnes.

Prior to the start of the seventh inning, Mrs. Shirley Christie made a presentation to Vernon's Alex Kashuba of a trophy for the league's top batter of the year. The cup known as the Wilk Christie Memorial Trophy, was given by Mrs. Christie in memory of her late husband who had served in the ranks of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League. Alex, first man to win the trophy, led all others in the league.

WALTER GIBB ... to University

Gen. Sir Charles Loewen To Speak At Canadian Club

The Kelowna Canadian Club will open the 1962-63 season with an address from a distinguished soldier, General Sir Charles Loewen, GCB, KBE, DSO.

Sir Charles' topic will be "Keeping the Queen's Peace."

The address will be given in the Anglican Hall on Wednesday, Sept. 12, with the program beginning at the dinner hour, 6:15 p.m.

General Loewen has had a distinguished career. Commissioned in the British Army from Royal Military College in 1918, he has since served in India, Burma and the Middle East.

During World War II he served in Norway and Italy, where he commanded the 56th Divisional Artillery, 10th Corps Artillery and First British Infantry division. He was awarded the CBE, DSO, U.S. Legion of Merit and was twice mentioned in despatches.

Subsequently he was GOC 1st Armoured Division and GOC Anti-Aircraft Command. From 1953 to 1956 he was Commander-in-Chief British Far East Land Forces and United Kingdom military adviser to the South-east Asia Treaty Organization.

In 1956 General Loewen became Adjutant-General to the forces, a member of the British Army Council. He was appointed ADC general to Her Majesty the Queen.

Mrs. H. E. Webb, deputy government agent at Salmon Arm is in Kelowna at the provincial office relieving Miss Edna Dunn who is on vacation for several weeks.

Pilgrim Fatima Statue Theme Of Priest's Visit

"Prayers for unity and peace on the occasion of the Second Vatican Council" was the theme when the Kelowna district visited this weekend by Rev. Patrick Moore, a Scarborough Foreign Mission Father.

Father Moore is on a worldwide tour with the Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima and currently has been visiting each parish in the Diocese of Nelson since August 15.

"The Song of Bernadette" by Franz Werfel popularized the apparition to the girl, Bernadette, in Lourdes, France in 1858. A few years ago the song, "Our Lady of Fatima" and in 1952 the movie, "The Miracle of Fatima" made millions familiar with the message of Fatima, Portugal, to the three little shepherds in 1917.

On May 13, 1948, Father Moore secured the carved statue at Fatima, Portugal, and flew to Rome for a private audience with Pope Plus XII, before proceeding to Santo Domingo where the Pilgrimage began on June 6, 1948.

With the Fatima message of prayer and penance for peace and unity Father Moore will visit St. Theresa's Church, Rutland, St. Plus X and Immaculate Conception Churches in the city.

The statue arrived Sunday evening in Rutland, tonight at St. Plus X and Tuesday evening at Immaculate Conception, Parishioners from Lumby will escort the statue as it leaves there, and from Rutland others will go to meet it. A similar pattern will be followed at each parish. A Marian Holy Hour is conducted with Father Moore preacher and the Rosary is recited during the evening and the following day until the visit is concluded.

Kelowna Man At CLU Session

Among those attending three days of discussions on training methods to be used in the Life Underwriters Association Training Course which opened in Vancouver today is H. Russ Hawley, CLU, Kelowna.

Mr. Hawley is among 20 specially selected life underwriters from all parts of B.C., meeting under the chairmanship of Norman S. Nichols, CLU, Toronto, director of education of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada. Seven other similar conferences are being conducted in cities from coast to coast.

HERB SULLIVAN ... club director

This distinguished and outstanding speaker comes to Kelowna with a wealth of information and will start off the fall season of speakers for the Kelowna Canadian Club.

Minor Cases, Fines Levied

Stion Videjordan, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to being intoxicated Sunday in a public place. Fine was $15 and costs.

Also fined for being intoxicated in a public place was Eddie Kello of Westbank. He was found sitting in a hotel parking lot. Court was told he had six previous convictions for the same offence. Fine was $50 and costs or 30 days in jail. He was given time to pay.

William Jolliffe, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to a charge of loitering in the local bus depot. He was fined $25 and costs or 14 days.

Herman Holten, no fixed address, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of vagrancy Sept. 8. Alternative was 14 days. He pleaded guilty.

Janice Lynn Walker of Kelowna on a wallo case from the Nanaimo highway patrol pleaded guilty to crossing a double line south of Ladysmith on Vancouver Island. Fine was $25 and costs.

Lytle McCormick Nolan of Kelowna pleaded not guilty to a charge of not having rear lights on a vehicle. He was given a remand to Tuesday morning.

WESTBANK'S 23RD ANNUAL

Three Centres Share Fair Wins

Aggregate winners at Westbank's 23rd annual Fall Fair were evenly divided between Kelowna, Westbank and Peachland, one to each community.

Mrs. J. D. Greig, Kelowna, captured the silver cup donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Johnson of Westbank for annual competition for highest aggregate in Class "C" Flowers, with 35 points. L. T. Hannam, Westbank, came second with 27 points and Mrs. H. B. deMontreuil, Kelowna, placed third, with 16 points.

Leonard Hannam took the silver cup donated by Westbank Community Club for annual competition for highest aggregate in Class "A" Fruit, with 57 points, and Claude Drought was runner-up with 28 points.

In Classes "D" and "E", Home Economics, Mrs. C. A. Warren, Peachland, took home the silver cup donated by Westbank Women's Institute for highest aggregate, her total being 40 points, while Mrs. Adrian Reece, Lakeview Heights, placed second with 25 points.

OUTSTANDING WIN

Another special prize was the silver challenge cup for annual competition donated by A. H. Davidson, for collection of annuals. This was won by Mrs. E. J. Taylor, and is particularly praiseworthy in that Mrs. Taylor is handicapped as the result of illness.

While fewer entries were listed this year, it was remarked that never had the flowers been of higher quality. In the case of fruit, hail damage was a reason for fewer entries. Some growers gave up hope of entering exhibits, while others persisted in their search for qualifying specimens.

Features of the fair were hobby and gem displays, as well as J. U. Gellatly's booth of various nuts suitable for growing in Canada.

VARIED HOBBIES

Mrs. H. Hardwicke's variety of hobby-crafts, as always, created considerable interest, and included shell, sequin and beadwork, jewelry, "seaweed" pictures, painting, etched and cut aluminum, petas whose skeletons were formed from wire clothes-hangers, driftwood novelties and other intriguing articles too numerous to mention.

Attracting admiration was the rock and gem display arranged by Al and Edith Moore, Peachland, with its case of jewelry set with semi-precious stones from all over the country; specimens of jade, rock and samples of lovely treasures collected by rock hounds.

Painting done by Mrs. E. A. Drought also drew interest, besides which there were samples of needlepoint, crosswork, a ship, driftwood novelties and other hobby specimens revealing wide interests.

GIRLS SERVED TEA

Westbank Women's Institute was in charge of the afternoon tea and serving the guests were: Misses Gloria Charlton, Ennel Hausner, Wanda Newfield, Penny Shetler, Patricia Usher and Dale Gillis.

At the evening session John Seltenrich, president of the Fair Board, presented winners with their awards, and throughout the day fair secretary Mrs. J. H. Blackley was in charge of recording prize-winners and generally keeping the record straight.

PEARS: Anjou, Len Hannam, Bartlett, Len Hannam, any other named variety, Mrs. Isabel Fenton.

Commonwealth Ministers Are Meeting Today

When the Commonwealth prime ministers assemble in London on September 10, it will be the eleventh meeting of its kind since the end of the war. It will be the first to be held in Marlborough House, which the Queen has placed at the disposal of the British Government as a Commonwealth centre.

The member countries represented at the Conference will be Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Ghana, Malaya, Nigeria, Cyprus, Sierra Leone, Tanganyika, Jamaica and Trinidad and Tobago. As on former occasions the prime minister of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland has been invited to attend.

Every Commonwealth prime ministers' meeting is important. Busy heads of government do not lightly leave their seats of office and travel with their advisors anything up to 12,000 miles. But in the history of the Commonwealth each prime ministers' conference has been a milestone: for example, the 1946 meeting discussed the peace treaties, the 1949 meeting evolved the formula by which a Republic India might remain a member of the Commonwealth; the 1961 meeting saw the withdrawal of South Africa from the Commonwealth. But the coming conference is likely to be as momentous as any that has so far taken place. For although the prime ministers will discuss various aspects of international, political and economic affairs, the main topic will be Britain's application to join the European Economic Community (the Common Market) and the effect this could have on Commonwealth trade and on the economy of the various nations.

It is not surprising that the Common Market is a subject of controversy through the Commonwealth. In Britain itself there is considerable divergence of view, not only among the sections of the community likely to be affected, but among those who fear lest it should strain one of the most important Commonwealth links. Britain's sovereign right to enter into any agreement and with whom she pleases is not disputed. What is causing concern to some is that Britain should appear to be going "outside the family".

But Britain's Lord Privy Seal, Mr. Edward Heath, expressed the view in the House of Commons last June that Britain's membership of the Common Market would not be "incompatible with our influences and friendships with other parts of the world, with the United States or with other countries with which we have close relationships". Only a prosperous United Kingdom can provide adequate investment for Commonwealth. Only a competitive United Kingdom can retain its own place in the Commonwealth.

Certain it is that there will be plenty of plain speaking at the prime ministers' conference, and it is well that this should be so before Britain's negotiations reach a conclusive stage.

The prime ministers' meetings are the highlights in the continuous process of consultation at a great variety of levels that gives vitality to the Commonwealth association. The meetings are held in private, for open session would destroy their very purpose, which is the frank and uninhibited exchange of views and information. It is one of the most important ways in which individual governments can be sure that their special points of view are fully understood by the others. Difficult as it is for the prime ministers of 16 countries, with their obligations to their own parliaments, to arrange a meeting at which all will be able to attend, it is generally felt that such ad hoc consultation is preferable to the setting up of permanent machinery.

The prime ministers have hitherto met in London for administrative convenience, but there is no constitutional reason why they should not meet in another Commonwealth capital.

There is no formal agenda, and suggestions about what is to be discussed are made by the various governments. Any prime minister can raise any issue, and the course of the discussion is often determined by issues in world affairs which are current at the time of the meeting.

Walkouts

Six teen-age girls in Roselle, New Jersey, have organized in the hope of establishing work rules and minimum pay standards for their industry. Their industry is baby-sitting.

The girls have drawn up a code demanding time-and-a-half (75 cents) for each working hour after midnight, and they positively refuse to do any extra chores, such as housework.

Well, we can sympathize with the young ladies. Baby-sitting is not an easy job, involving as it does such tasks as watching television, reading movie magazines, and emptying the employer's refrigerator. Indeed, there is no job to rival that of baby-sitter — unless it's assistant fireman on a diesel freight train.

But even granting the extraordinary nature of the job, thoughtful men will still recognize in the baby-sitters' action a serious threat to the general welfare. Alas, if baby-sitters can organize, they can also strike.

America has discovered that, for brief periods at least, it can do without steel-workers, without auto-workers, without dock-workers. But what would happen if all the baby-sitters walked off the job on the same night? If the republic still stood in the morning, we'll bet unions would be placed under the anti-trust laws in nothing flat. And the only dissenters would be labor leaders — single labor leaders. —Wall Street Journal.

CASTRO SENDS CUBAN FARMERS TO MOSCOW TO STUDY AGRICULTURE

— NEWS ITEM FROM HAWAII

BLIND LEADING THE BLIND

Peking Is A Fascinating City To The Western Observer

By CLARE McDERMOTT

PEKING (Reuters) — Peking, the capital of China, combines ancient splendor with new vitality, making it, for its few foreign residents, one of the world's most fascinating cities. Like Paris, it has the quality of bringing a misty look to the eyes of even the most hardened travellers long after they have left.

After living in Peking for 25 months as Reuters correspondent in Communist China, I feel I have joined those ranks and have little doubt that in future years I too will lapse into the "summer palace" or the faraway silence when anyone mentions the unique beauty of "temple of heaven," or the exquisite taste of Peking duck.

From the rooftop patio of the house where I lived during the last months of my assignment, I looked upon a wide panorama of new and old Peking.

The "forbidden city" of the Manchu emperors, overthrown in the 1911 revolution, looms to the west, just across a narrow moat. Beyond its golden roofs and fiery red walls, new factories and modern buildings stand out against the timeless tranquility of the western hills.

NEW FACTORIES

To the north and east, across a sea of grey tile roofs of the one and two - storey houses which fill Peking's residential areas, are more new factories and apartment buildings.

The new national art gallery, opened last May and of cream-colored stone with gold and green roofs and trimmings, is one of the best examples of the marriage of ancient and modern architectural styles in the new Peking.

Some who remember the Peking of the past, when it was a quiet town of university intellectuals and officials, lament the changes which have turned it into a busy national capital and industrial centre.

Great sections of the old city have been ripped down. Narrow streets have become wide boulevards, with houses cut by half and courtyards eliminated to make room for them.

Few cities in the world can match, for size and grandeur, the Avenue of Perpetual Peace, which crosses the city from east to west across the main Tienanmen Square.

OLD AND NEW

Within the 20 - mile circle around Peking which is open to Westerners, you come across frequent examples of old and new.

Factory chimneys and blocks of workers' apartments stand above ancestral graves and ancient temples in the western suburbs, near the "summer palace" where the dowager empress once lived.

In the new diplomatic quarter outside old Peking's eastern wall, only the modern architecture of the Polish and Czechoslovak embassies enliven the scene. The other embassies, built by the Communist Chinese, are all alike.

Newly-planted trees are just beginning to break up the grey pattern of brick, stone and grey earth. Vegetable gardens take up the space between the diplomatic buildings and there are no playgrounds for the dozens of foreign children who live in the apartments.

Life in the non - diplomatic residential areas is more pleasant. Chinese neighbors are friendly and talkative and choruses of happy children crowd around my apartment's big red street door, greeting every arrival and departure.

BUSY STREETS

Only 50 yards away is the Chinese equivalent of an English "pub," where pedicab drivers and residents gather to drink good draught beer, soda water, or tea.

Grocery stores, where housewives line up for their rice rations, are farther down the street and vegetables are sold from carts which stand on the corner morning and evening.

The street hums with life. Itinerant barbers and knife grinders, tinkers and cobblers, announce their arrival with loud, wailing cries, or a miscellany of improvised cymbals and horns.

On the banks of the moat surrounding the "forbidden city," students sing airs from Peking operas.

The most rewarding experience is to walk in the narrow lanes, called hutings, winding between main streets.

These dirt tracks pass between the dusty grey walls of closely - packed houses, each built round a tiny, enclosed courtyard.

PERFECT BOATING DAYS

Open boats afford glimpses into these homes, while the lakes themselves are the playgrounds for Peking's thousands of children, who follow a foreigner of any nationality calling out: "Russian friend, Russian friend."

The memories which will always recall Peking make an almost endless list. Standing out among them are:

Perfect days of boating on the "summer palace lake," under clear blue skies, with friends from several nations.

Picnics in the shadow of the Ming tombs, or along the "great wall," and animated discussions on the patio of our house, with a full moon shining on the "forbidden city."

Those wonderful meals with Chinese friends at the Peking Duck restaurant, and spicy food from Szechwan province.

OTTAWA REPORT

The Whip And Voting

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

The importance of party whips in the House of Commons has been quite sensationally revived by the present situation where a minority government holds office; this in turn has again touched off broad discussion of voting in the House. When Parliament meets later this month, several aspects of these topics will claim the daily interest of most M.P.s.

In our 24th Parliament, which met first in May 1958, the government voting strength was 207, heavily outweighing the combined opposition vote of 49 Liberals plus 8 CCF members. The 26th member of the House of Commons was of course the Speaker, who only votes to break a tie.

Thus the party whips on both sides had little incentive to perform their main task, which is to "whip in" the maximum strength of their party for any vote—since the opposition could not expect to outvote the government.

CLOSE VOTES LIKELY

In this month's new parliament, however, the voting strength of the Conservative government will be only 115, while the 100 Liberals, 30 Social Crediters and 19 NDP members could overthrow the government by combining to vote solidly against it on any major vote.

This will keep the whips busy. It also poses the definition of a "major" vote, and the vexed question of party solidarity on votes. A tradition was introduced into our Parliament by the late W. L. Mackenzie King according to which every vote in the House is regarded as a vote of confidence in the ability of the Ministry to carry on the government of Canada. From this it automatically follows that the government must strive to win every vote; and hence that every MP must at all times vote in support of the leader of his party.

Such rigid party discipline is admirable, and essential to the smooth working of party politics, in the opinion of some politicians, who argue that no party could govern without it. Others believe that such slavish submission to the leadership of a party chieftain sometimes forces the individual MP to vote in a manner inimical to his constituents' interests, and merely reduces him to the status of a performing seal—as the opposition parties repeatedly described the Liberal followers of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. H. Badami, the Liberal MP for Fort William, has often discussed with me his own vigorous intellectual objections to such block voting on minor issues.

smooth working of party politics, in the opinion of some politicians, who argue that no party could govern without it. Others believe that such slavish submission to the leadership of a party chieftain sometimes forces the individual MP to vote in a manner inimical to his constituents' interests, and merely reduces him to the status of a performing seal—as the opposition parties repeatedly described the Liberal followers of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. H. Badami, the Liberal MP for Fort William, has often discussed with me his own vigorous intellectual objections to such block voting on minor issues.

SOME VOTES TRIVIAL

The solution seems obvious, and experienced frequently in the British Parliament. Except on a vote concerning a measure of major importance to government policy, such as the Throne speech or the budget, or on a specific motion of censure of the government, MPs should be free to vote in accordance with their conscience and the interest of their constituents; and a defeat on such a lesser vote would not be accepted as an over-all lack of confidence. For major votes in the British Parliament, the party whips send out a summons underlined three times. Such a "three line whip" is a strict command to be present, and to vote with the leader.

Thus some opinion considers that Mackenzie King, if it were he, did Canada a disservice by instituting this invariable "party solidarity" on all votes.

With the close balance in the new parliament, we will likely see a return to the system of "pairing," whereby Conservative and Liberal MPs in pairs will agree that one will not vote if the other is compelled to be absent. But MPs will probably not forget that accidents can happen, and an unintentional broken pair caused the defeat of a government here three decades ago.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Anglican Priests Probably Choosy

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD

Special London (Eng.)

Correspondent

For The Daily Courier

LONDON — Rev. Charles Porter, vicar of St. Andrew's Church, one of the largest churches in the suburban town of Ilford, Essex, has launched a scathing criticism of the present system of appointment of newly ordained priests in the Church of England. In an outspoken statement, he calls the system an "unseemly scramble."

Curates, he declares, pick and choose until they get the parish which offers them the greatest incentives.

Rev. Mr. Porter is at the moment looking for a new curate for his church. His present one is leaving to take over a parish on his own. Although Mr. Porter has interviewed several men regarding the vacancy, he has not yet found a replacement. He blames this on a new attitude of "playing hard to get" on the newly ordained priests.

LOOK FOR INCENTIVES

Mr. Porter spoke of the situation he has discovered in the following blunt terms.

"Today the new man interviews the vicar for his curacy rather than the other way around. They look around to see if some additional incentive or material help is offered. The shortage of curates has produced a competitive market."

"When I was ordained, in the 1890's, I was very glad to find a vicar to take me on. Nowadays a curate-to-be makes up a list on the advice of his Bishop, or the principal of his college, of a number of vicars and takes his choice from several parishes. The richer parishes can offer all kinds of incentives for a curate to join it. Many have curate's houses which is of particular attraction to a married man. If they don't actually offer him a car, they can offer him material help in running one, such as paying his gasoline bills."

WHITSUN COLLECTION

One of the questions which always arises, says Mr. Porter, has to do with the collection on Whitsunday. This is normally given to the curate. It can amount to as much as $600 in a wealthy parish, but in a small one $60 would be considered a good average. This is an added extra to the official stipend, and might mean a great deal in the decision of a curate as to which parish he takes.

Mr. Porter had also found that curates like to work where there is more than one on the staff, so that they can enjoy more fellowship.

"Vicars are also being appointed at a younger age" said Mr. Porter.

"This is adding to the shortage of curates. They are being pushed up far too fast these days."

"There are just as many new men being ordained as there are old men retiring. But as there are more and more new churches being built all over the country, we are always losing ground. The shortage of men coming into the church has resulted in the situation getting quite out of hand."

BIBLE BRIEF

Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host, the earth, and all things that is therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. —Neh. 9:6.

Our loving heavenly Father is the almighty God, Creator of heaven and earth.

Canadian Couturiers Show New Fall Creations In Montreal

Canadian high fashion endorsed an elegant look in supple fabrics at the fall-winter press show of the Canadian Association of Couturiers in Montreal today.

Silhouettes hugged, skimmed, or softly wrapped the figure with shirring, bias folds and panels. New interpretations of the spare look were created by two Montreal designers, Raul Jean Faurio introduced his L-line; and Mario Di Nardo the pant-skirt, a slim variation of the culotte.

Fabrics chosen were predominantly Canadian, in supple textures. Black was the leading color.

Ten of the twelve couturiers chose six new fabrics to interpret their designs. An outfit of the twelve couturiers.

WESTBANK NEWS

Greek Orthodox Church, Vernon Is Scene Of Pretty Ceremony

Lakeview Heights Correspondent
Varicolored gladioli arranged in long planters decorated the Greek Orthodox Church in Vernon, for the wedding on Saturday, September 1 of Janet Leslie Gray, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Gray of Lakeview Heights, and William Bregeda, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Elim Bregeda of Ruland. The Reverend Father H. O. Wasyliw officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor-length gown of heavy bridal satin, featuring the princess line in front, with a scoop neckline and long, lily-point sleeves, and with a full skirt pleated at the sides and back, which fell into a graceful sweeping train. A tiara of pearls and lace held her chapel-length veil of tulle and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Irene Peterson of Westside, and the bridesmaids, Miss Randy Gray, sister of the bride, and Miss Anne Bregeda, sister of the bridegroom. A charming junior bridesmaid was the bride's youngest sister, Denise, carrying a nosegay of baby pink carnations and accompanied by the groom's youngest brother Master Sergio Bregeda.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed alike in day-length gowns of aquamarine peau de sole with scoop necklines and three-quarter-length sleeves. Full gathered skirts fell from the beaded waistlines and their headresses were of matching material fashioned into bows trimmed with net. Their bouquets were of coral gladioli.

Acting as best man, was the groom's brother Mr. Tony Bregeda from Cranbrook, and ushers were Mr. Darwin Kamer of Assiniboine, Saskatchewan, Mr. Dennis Wilberg of Peachland, Mr. Victor Felker of Summerland and Mr. Alfred Roshinsky of Kelowna.

Sloppy Shoppers Cause Prices To Rise

TORONTO (CP) — Reliable retailers have tended to make some Canadians sloppy shoppers, the head of the Consumers Association of Canada said here today.

Mrs. A. F. W. Plumtree of Ottawa, CAC national president, told guests at the Canadian National Exhibition's women's day luncheon that consumers are sometimes responsible for increased costs of goods. Unsatisfactory goods returned to a store raised the cost of distribution, she said.

"I would suggest that the first responsibility of consumers is to know what we want when we go to buy a product."

Mrs. Plumtree said consumers should respect the manufacturers' products. She cited a case where shoppers opened vacuum-sealed jars of baby food then replaced them on the supermarket shelf.

Air entered the container and the company was threatened with a suit for putting contaminated baby food on the market. The company had to put an extra closure on the jars to prevent shoppers from opening them.

"And then we complain if the price goes up," she said.

FURRED IN FOX
Angeline of Toronto and Olivia of Hamilton showed the same material intricately draped. Olivia's cocktail dress had a black coat of another new fabric, a verdera weave in a silk-worsted effect. The coat, a slim clutch style with knotted closure, was opulently furred with black fox.

Marie Antoinette of Montreal shirred black matt Arnelon jersey, in a full-length evening gown fastened with a single band of sequined flowers across the back.

Glowing crimson pile fabric of 100 per cent arnel, was chosen by d'Anjou of Montreal to create a dramatic full-length evening cape. It was worn with a slim black sheath, topped by a fringed, fitted bodice in matching pile.

Frances Stewart of Ottawa used softly brushed plaid in black and blue, for a youthful coat with fullness falling from a semi-fitted bodice. It was shown with a matching full skirt.

Margaret Underwood of Halifax selected red and black check, for a three piece suit. The loose fitting jacket and vest were worn with a black sueded jersey blouse. The outfit was trimmed with suede.

ANN LANDERS

'King Tut' Has Been Found!

Dear Readers: Between you and me and the dog catcher I am astonished at the number of unclaimed Airedales roaming the United States and Canada. Remember the letter about King Tut? He was the poor mutt whose master dropped him off on a country road to "test his homing instinct." It was the wife of the brainless experimenter who wrote. She signed her letter "Married To a Moron."

Since that letter appeared in print I have been deluged with letters from readers who have picked up stray Airedales.

E. M. (City Desk, Miami Herald) wrote "Mrs. B. has found King Tut and would like to know what to do with him. Please advise."

Mrs. F. S. of the Richmond Times-Leader in Richmond, Virginia informed me that a local policeman has the King in tow and is awaiting my instructions.

Mrs. R. M. of San Jose, California who picked up an Airedale on a country road wrote: "My husband and I tried out several names just to make sure. We called him "Rover," "Pal" and "Prince" and nothing happened. But the minute I said "King Tut" his ears picked up and he wagged his tail."

"Landers fan" from Louisville wrote "I went out to get the Times and here was this big Airedale asleep on the porch. He was thirsty and hungry. I'm sure it must be King Tut. Only a hound who had walked 40 miles could look like this one."

United Church Wm. Are Urged To Attend Meeting

The United Church Women of the First United Church will hold their first general meeting of the new season on Tuesday evening, September 11, at 8 p.m. in the First United Church Hall.

The first part of the evening will be under the leadership of Mrs. C. C. Sladen and her Stewardship Committee, and there will also be a report on Camp Hurlburt. The remainder of the evening will be taken up with committee meetings at which plans for the coming year will be discussed, and representatives from all Units will meet with their conveners.

Following is a list of the groups which are to meet: Presidents, treasurers, finance, stewardship, missionary, Christian education, Christian Citizenship, friendship and membership, literature and periodicals, bazaar, and program.

All United Church women are urged to attend.

POLISH SCHOOLS
WARSAW (AP)—Poland has reached the halfway mark in a program to build 1,000 schools commemorating 1,000 years of Polish statehood. The 500th school has just been completed in Sietlin province.

POPULAR FRUIT
Grapefruit, now widely grown in the southern parts of the U.S., was introduced to Florida from the West Indies in 1810.

Readers in Winnipeg, Calgary, Ottawa and Montreal have found Airedales who answer to "King Tut." In the meantime, the director of the humane society in Toronto wrote to ask that we furnish him with the name of the party who did "this terrible thing."

All who were good enough to write will be happy and relieved, (as I was) to learn that the real King Tut has been found—in Cleveland.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a girl who pretends to be my best friend, yet the minute my back is turned she steals my sweetheart? This has happened to me four times in the last year.

I pretend it doesn't bother me but it actually it drives me crazy. It's gotten so I hate to introduce her to anybody anymore. What bugs me is this, Ann: I know I'm not very smart and I couldn't win any beauty contest either, but she isn't any smarter or any better looking than I am. (P.S. I am 16 and she is 15, which is another thing that bugs me up.)

—ROBBED

Dear Robbed: A boy friend is not a sack of salt that can be slung over a shoulder and carried off.

If you are losing out to your girl friend it may be that you are too possessive, or too demanding. Or perhaps the boys sense you are afraid of competition. This will put the dead hand on any romance.

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to give the girl who signed herself "Sandbagged" a little advice. I, too, was "sandbagged" and here is how my life turned out.

My boy friend was like hers — interested in only one thing. He never took me any place except to a lonely road to park. He said he was "saving his money" so we could be married. Well, we've been married for 20 years and he's still interested in only one thing. And, incidentally, I never did see any of that money he was supposed to be saving.

The only vacations I've ever had were when my children were born. I took off two weeks. I've always done the cleaning, and ironing and even the yard work.

My knucklehead works an 8-hour shift, comes home and goes to bed for a few hours to rest up for dinner and a night in front of the TV.

I hope all young girls who read this will take heed. If a sweetheart is the selfish, stick-in-the-mud type, marriage won't work any miracle on him. He'll probably get worse instead of better. —SANDBAGGED ALSO

TEAM MEMBERS of the Vernon Luckies' senior baseball club wait apprehensively before they came to the batter's mound. Vernon downed Merritt 6-5 in 13 innings of play Sunday to win the first of a two-out-of-three series

KECKALO DRIVES IN WINNER

Luckies Snaffle Opener Of OMBL Championship

VERNON (Staff)—Number 13 proved to be unlucky for Merritt when they bowed out 6-5 to Vernon Luckies in the 13th inning of the opening game for the Okanagan Mainline Senior Baseball Championships played in Vernon Sunday.

The win, a big one in the eyes of some local ball experts, could tell the tale in the best two of three series which continues next Sunday in Merritt.

Vernon wasted little time in starting things off when they scored two runs in the initial stanza and added two more in the fourth to lead 4-0 going into the fifth inning.

Merritt however, had different ideas as they picked up five runs in their half of the fifth at the expense of three Vernon errors and a three-run home run off the bat of Merritt center fielder Bruno Ceccone.

In the bottom half of the sixth, Merritt starter Al Mayervich, retired the first two Vernon batters in order but suddenly ran into trouble when he walked Richy Shamanski and Jack Wheelhouse and then eased up to let Vernon catcher John Kashuba drive a booming double into right centre field scoring Shamanski.

At this, Larry Webster came off the Merritt bench to relieve Mayervich. Webster walked Russ Keckalo to load the bases but came through with fine pitching to keep the big bat of Alex Kashuba silent for the third out.

ANYONE'S GAME From then on it was anyone's game as each club settled down to some serious baseball, until the ninth inning, when both managed to get men into scoring position.

In the top of the ninth, Merritt's Bob Radley started things off with a long drive to centre for a double. Webster, the pitcher, fled out to the second baseman and then Ken Jorgenson was given an intentional walk. Doug Weeks made it two out when he drove a high ball into centre field and into the waiting glove of Jim Tooley. Vernon fans had their hearts in their mouths as Alex Kashuba made a sprawling catch in left field to retire Merritt for the third out.

Vernon had their turn in the ninth when Russ Keckalo reached first on a single to right field, Alex Kashuba flied out and Jim Moro coming in to replace Ray Adams laid down a tremendous sacrifice bunt to move Keckalo to second. Merritt then decided not to take any chances as they gave Tom Stecky a free pass to first.

Vernon, using a little strategy of their own, brought in Vern Dye as a pinch hitter for Jim Tooley but Vern had little luck as he popped out to the Merritt pitcher for the third Vernon out. Ball fans stayed glued to their seats for the next three innings as the score remained at a five-all tie. Vernon set the stage for the big win in the bottom half of the 13th when first man to plate Jack Wheelhouse reached first base on a walk. The next batter for Vernon John Kashuba in an effort to get Wheelhouse into scoring position laid down a perfect bunt along the first base line and reached first safely after the pitcher Webster bobbled the ball.

The third man to the plate Russ Keckalo, made no mistake on what he wanted to do as he drove Webster's first pitch into left centre field scoring Wheelhouse for the 6-5 victory.

Winning pitcher Gary Barnes went the distance for Vernon, recording 17 strikeouts and allowing only five hits to Merritt. Larry Webster was charged for the loss.

Linescore:
Vernon 200 201 000 000 1
Merritt 000 050 000 000 0
Vernon 6 runs on 9 hits and 5 errors.
Merritt 5 runs on 5 hits and 1 error.

Lavington Man Leo Johnson Funeral Held

VERNON (Staff)—Funeral service was held this afternoon from the chapel of the Vernon Funeral Home for Leo Lafayette Johnson, 67, who died here on Sept. 5.

Mr. Johnson was born in Missouri, and was employed as a mechanic until his retirement in 1955, and a veteran of both world wars. He left Montreal in 1960, and was a resident of the Lavington district for the past two years.

Survivors are: his wife, Gabriel; two sons, Arnold and Orval of New Westminster; one brother, James, of Vermillion, Alberta, and one sister, Mrs. Mamie Steward, of Elk Point, Alberta.

Burial was in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

Night School Registration

VERNON (Staff)—Nick Turk, night school director wishes to remind all persons interested in the night school program that registration day in Vernon is Oct. 1, 7:30 p.m. at the Junior High School. At Lumby registration will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 3 at the Charles Bloom High School.

New courses added to the curriculum during the past week are: advanced typing to be taught by Mrs. Beryl Murphy. This course will consist of 22 lessons to Christmas. If students desire further training another 18 lesson course will be offered after Christmas. The purpose of this course is to help students increase their typing speed and to teach simple office procedure.

Another course that already has an interested following, is beginners bridge consisting of 20 lessons. Alan Hassell will instruct this course. Mr. Bennett and Mr. Turk are hoping to find instructors for courses in millinery, Spanish and drafting. They would welcome any help in their efforts to find competent instructors.

A complete list of courses will be published in a later edition of this paper.

Living Room Learning Opens Wednesday Night

VERNON (Staff)—Living room learning, group discussions held among adults and sponsored by the Department of University Extension, UBC, will begin here Wednesday, Sept. 19.

Any person with an inquiring mind and a desire to learn may take part. A college background is not necessary. Persons joining the living room classes will receive independent study materials prepared from materials, texts and sometimes films and records. Topics will be freely discussed with a group of about 12 to 18 people. Meeting will be held once a week, but in one course held here, every second week.

Topics under discussion in Vernon will be world politics, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Overend, 3308 17th St.; Wednesday, Sept. 19, 8 p.m. Mass communications — a major social force, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Copes, 2005 25th Ave., starting Thursday, Sept. 20, 8 p.m. and ideas in context at the home of Miss Julia Reekie, 2005 25th Ave., every second Friday, commencing Sept. 21.

Cost of each course is $10 per person, including the text books which are kept. Couples may register for $15. Persons wishing to join the groups which are held for about 10 weeks throughout the winter should contact the names mentioned.

In a study discussion group people learn to think more independently, and to really, they learn new and more effective ways to express their ideas. Knowledge acquired through study discussion is often more meaningful and is usually not so quickly forgotten.

Sea Cadets Start Tues.

VERNON (Staff)—Vernon Sea Cadets commence training Tuesday, Sept. 11, 7 p.m. in the Armouries here for the 1962-63 season. For the second year, the Vernon Corps has been awarded the D. W. Barr shield as the best cadet corp in B.C. for store administration.

It is expected the shield will be presented Sept. 13 in a special ceremony. Boys interested in the sea cadets may join if they are 14 years or older and should report to the Armouries Tuesday night.

FALLS FROM HORSE VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. M. Matthews, 45, of Bella Coala was in satisfactory condition in hospital here Sunday after being flown from the north coast centre where she fell from a horse.

Enderby Schools Show Increase

ENDERBY (Correspondent)—An increase of 47 pupils have entered the Enderby schools for the 1962-63 term.

The total registered pupils in the secondary school, which is grades 8-12 stands at 265 a total of 22 more than last year.

The M. V. Beattie elementary has an increase of 25 pupils with their count at a high 232. The rural schools count has not been turned in yet, but it has been predicted that they too will be higher than last year.

Ten new teachers have been welcomed to the Enderby school these being: Mr. Horner, Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Daum, Miss Benfro, Miss Harle, Mr. Gordon, Mr. MacMillan, Mr. Paillo, Mr. Kunzo and Mrs. Hale.

Would Trade Little Girl For Car

MEXICO CITY (CP) — The newspaper advertisement read:

"To give away, a girl barely one year old, to person well-fixed." Then there was a telephone number.

Callers were told that sandy-haired, blue-eyed Mariela was theirs if they could give an automobile in return.

"The child really isn't my daughter, and I have no other choice," the callers were told by the man who ran the ad, druggist Gabriel Aviles, 42.

He explained that he and his wife took the child three months ago from a woman too poor to feed her and they now found the financial burden too great.

His $8-a-week salary was barely enough to maintain his own four children, Aviles said.

The car he hoped to obtain would be a boon as a delivery vehicle for the drug store or for use as a taxi.

"Someone well-fixed should be willing to give me a car in exchange for Mariela," he told the callers. "She's a beautiful child."

Since the ad first appeared two days ago, dozens of persons had called Aviles, some to ask about taking the child, some to criticize him.

The number of calls increased after the newspaper Ultima Noticias ran a story about the offer under an eight-column headline.

The episode ended Friday with Aviles in police custody for questioning.

"We don't know if he has violated any law, but we're going to find out," police said.

Aviles said he has given up the plans for the girl-car exchange.

"It wasn't such a good idea anyway," he said.

Rocket Booster Still Key To US-Soviet Space Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — The history of the space race is essentially an account of spectacular Soviet accomplishments and many lesser U.S. scientific achievements accompanied by glittering promises.

These promises of great things to come often have gone hand-in-hand with explanations of why the United States lags behind Russia.

That the United States is second in the space race was admitted by President Kennedy at his Aug. 22 press conference.

At the same time Kennedy expressed the belief that before the present decade elapses the U.S. will have overtaken and surpassed the Soviets.

On Aug. 11 the Soviets launched Maj. Andrian G. Nikolayev on a 85-hour orbit around the earth. This was followed in 24 hours by the launching of Lt. Col. Pavel R. Popovich on a 71-hour space ride.

The Soviet feat was made possible by the use of boosters with more than twice the thrust capacity of those in operational use by the United States.

CAN'T MATCH

Clearly, then, the U.S. now is in no position to duplicate the flights of the two Soviet officers—and won't be for some time.

The acceleration of the U.S. man-in-space program, which only began in a definitive fashion in the spring of 1958, has been extraordinary. It also has been accompanied by the equally swift growth of a huge bureaucracy scattered from one end of the country to the other.

When the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I in October, 1957, the initial reaction from the White House, as relayed by James C. Hagerty, press secretary to President Eisenhower, was one of interest but no particular concern.

Asked what the Soviet achievement would do to the U.S. program Hagerty replied that the U.S. has "never thought of our program as one which was in a race with the Soviets."

The first time the U.S. officially admitted a race was under way came in 1961 at Kennedy's inauguration.

MADE GOAL

Thereafter the country had a specific goal: A landing on the moon before the end of the 60s.

The key to the space race, then and now, is a big rocket booster.

Wernher von Braun, German-born rocket expert and director of the George C. Marshall space flight centre at Huntsville, Ala., was asked by the Associated Press why he thought the United States had a chance to reach the moon ahead of the Russians.

"We have reason to believe that the vehicles used by the Russians have a first stage thrust of 800,000 to 1,000,000 pounds," he said.

"The Russians have an active booster program so it is likely they are working on rockets bigger than the ones they now use."

"So is this country. We have already launched two Saturn C-1s with first stage thrust of 1,300,000 pounds in a program leading to operational use of a C-1 having 1,500,000 pounds in late 1964.

"We are working on the Saturn C-5 with 7,500,000 pounds of thrust in the first stage. It should be fired first in 1965 and become operational in 1967."

"REMARKABLE PROGRESS" "The United States is making remarkable progress. . . . Two years ago I told the Associated Press I thought we had a good fighting chance to do this before the Russians. I still do."

That leaves the question of why the United States has lagged behind the Soviet Union. Some observers have cited the conservative approach of U.S. military men to new weapon technology which extends from the machine gun perfected by Richard J. Gatlin to rockets in 1962.

At one time the military could see no immediate use for the flying contraption of Orville and Wilbur Wright.

Dr. Robert H. Goodard developed a liquid-fueled rocket in the 1920s, but the army couldn't see any use for it as a weapon. Others could.

BANK OF MONTREAL

UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS

Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting any two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN

Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each
OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE

If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME

See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University—or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

Heart Valve Transplanted In Girl

AUCKLAND (Reuters) — A heart operation involving the transplant of an aortic valve from a dead person has saved the life of a 14-year-old New Zealand girl.

The operation, believed to be the first of its kind in the world, was performed on Marilyn Harkness, whose aortic valve has been infected by spinal meningitis.

Specialists at Auckland's Green Lane Hospital decided only by replacing the valve could her life be saved. In a four-hour operation surgeons took an aortic valve from a dead child of the same age and inserted it in the damaged heart.

During the operation Marilyn was kept alive by a heart-lung machine, and her body temperature was cooled by 12 degrees to protect her heart.

She began to recover immediately, and is expected to return home in a few weeks.

Shattering Experience

Crash. And another house window falls victim to the baseball season. What happens if it's your son who's just added to his batting average? Legally, you're not obliged to pay the repairs, but of course you'd like to. And if you have a Wawanesa Comprehensive Personal Liability policy, you're home free. At no extra cost, Wawanesa includes a Voluntary Property Damage clause in the policy to cover you in such an instance; it pays for damage up to $250. Yet this extra coverage doesn't cost you a thing. It's just one of the many nice extra benefits you enjoy with Wawanesa Mutual. WOMEN ON THE FAIRWAY

Kelowna's new 18-hole golf course is expected to attract a large number of entries for the Okanagan Mainline Ladies' Golf Championship this week.

The tournament, which starts Friday and continues through Sunday, will draw entries from Penticton, Vernon, Kamloops, Revelstoke and other interior points as well as the host Kelowna club.

The tournament itself begins with the qualifying round starting about noon Friday, followed by match play on Saturday with the finals going Sunday afternoon.

An interesting new event this year will be the 18-hole medal round Sunday for all those eliminated from competition. The winner will receive the "Joyce Underhill Trophy", a handsome trophy donated by Mrs. A. S. Underhill.

Among the organizers of the tournament are the present, Mrs. A. McClymont, the secretary, Mrs. H. H. Johnson, the vice captain, Mrs. C. E. McCallie, replacing the absent captain and Mrs. J. S. Campbell.

Mrs. R. P. Walrod will be in charge of entertainment. Mrs. J. C. Kennedy will be the starter. Mrs. A. McClelland and Mrs. D. Currell will look after the Pitch and Putt while Club pro Dave Crane will be on hand to advise on everything.

Rookie Nicklaus Wins Golf's Biggest Prize

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — When the incentives and prizes are big, 22-year-old Jack Nicklaus appears to be the boss of golf in the United States.

He may have replaced Arnold Palmer as paragon of the fairways Sunday when he won the first world series of golf, leaving Palmer and Gary Player of Johannesburg four strokes in the wake of his birdies and pars.

The sensational rookie from Columbus, Ohio, in his first year as a professional, increased his 1962 earnings to more than $100,000 by picking up the first-place cheque of $50,000. Palmer, first-day leader by a stroke over Nicklaus and four over Player, had to settle for a second-place tie with the South African. Each won $12,500.

None of the money won here, however, counts on the official money-winning list compiled by the U.S. Professional Golfers Association because the event was rated an exhibition. Palmer remains the leader in money earned this year with more than $80,000, a single-season record.

Palmer, putting sensationally, had torn the 7,165-yard Firestone course apart in Saturday's first round with a 65, matching the course record. But he found himself only a stroke ahead of Nicklaus, who carved out a 66.

In Sunday's 18-hole stretch drive Palmer three-putted the first two greens and hit a shot into a lake on the third. Nicklaus moved in front to stay. He clinched the big prize with birdie putts of 12 and 18 feet on the 10th and 11th holes, and put the frosting on the cake with an 18-foot birdie putt on the 36th hole for a closing 69.

Palmer soared to 74. Player matched par 70. Nicklaus hasn't been out of the money in any of the four tournaments this year, but he has won only two events—the U.S. Open and the world series.

Palmer, who early in the year was shooting at a grand slam, won the Masters and British Open, while Player captured the U.S. PGA. The world series is limited to the winners of the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA.

Palmer soared to 74. Player matched par 70. Nicklaus hasn't been out of the money in any of the four tournaments this year, but he has won only two events—the U.S. Open and the world series.

Palmer, who early in the year was shooting at a grand slam, won the Masters and British Open, while Player captured the U.S. PGA. The world series is limited to the winners of the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA.

Palmer, putting sensationally, had torn the 7,165-yard Firestone course apart in Saturday's first round with a 65, matching the course record. But he found himself only a stroke ahead of Nicklaus, who carved out a 66.

In Sunday's 18-hole stretch drive Palmer three-putted the first two greens and hit a shot into a lake on the third. Nicklaus moved in front to stay. He clinched the big prize with birdie putts of 12 and 18 feet on the 10th and 11th holes, and put the frosting on the cake with an 18-foot birdie putt on the 36th hole for a closing 69.

Schrieder Rubs It In As Lions Crush Argos 37-21

TORONTO (CP) — When Nobby Wirkowski took over as coach of Toronto Argonauts, he found the Eastern Football Conference, the team had lost three times in three starts.

Said Wirkowski: "The season is about to begin." Today, two games later, Argos have lost five in a row.

British Columbia Lions socked Argos 37-21 in a Canadian Football League interlocking game here Sunday before 22,544 fans who weren't often excited.

The loss almost killed Toronto's playoff hopes. Argos are five points behind the third-place Montreal Alouettes. The Lions moved from the Western Conference cellar to a third-place tie with Edmonton Eskimos, only one point behind the second-place Calgary Stampeders.

When the Lions had finished with Argos, Wirkowski accused some of his men of being "too fat and too well paid." He hinted that sweeping changes will be made after a practice tonight.

"We'll go with the pads," Nobby said. "No more sweat suits. Some of these fellows aren't hungry enough anymore."

Schrieder swooped in to grab the ball on the Argos three-yard line and carry it over for the touchdown.

Defensively, the Lions were strong. Linebacker Norm Fieldgate intercepted three passes. Schrieder was a defensive standout.

B.C. quarterback Joe Kapp passed for two touchdowns, 38 yards to Larascheid and 16 yards to Fleming.

Rote tossed a long pass down the sidelines and Hernandez, who had been used on defence the last three games, spun around a defender and completed a 21-yard scoring play.

Kapp completed 12 of 22 passes. Hall, who ran well, completed only four of 10 and Rote was 11 for 19.

Injuries? "We didn't hit anybody hard enough to get hurt," said the disgruntled Wirkowski.

Willie Fleming scored two touchdowns for the Lions and Gary Schrieder scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and three converts. Bob Schloredt kicked a single and Nub Beamer and Tom Larascheid scored the other touchdowns.

For Argos, Dick Shatto scored two touchdowns and rookie Joe Hernandez scored the other. Bill Mitchell kicked all three converts.

ARGOS LOOK BAD The most talked about play was the last play of the first half with the Lions leading 8-7. Schrieder, trying for a field goal, hit the upright. Argos stood around watching as MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Willie Pastrano of Miami dodged Rudolph Diaz of Argentina for 10 rounds and landed enough punches to gain a split decision Saturday night.

Pastrano preserved his record of never having been knocked down in 74 fights, although he became tired in the late rounds and stumbled badly in the ninth.

The 26-year-old second-ranked light-heavyweight came into the ring at 184, nine pounds above his usual weight, and it slowed him down.

However, he bounced around the ring, while keeping his left in the 186-pound Argentine's face. Diaz, whose face was puffed badly in the final rounds, kept flailing after Pastrano and landed some hard hooks to the body. Several times the referee warned him about hitting low.

Referee Jimmy Peeters scored the televised bout 97-95 for Pastrano and Judge Bunny Lovett concurred, 99-97. Judge Gus Jackson's card showed 97-94 for Diaz.

OTTAWA (CP) — Halfback Ron Stewart will play the full season with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Football Conference and also attend law courses at Osgoode Hall in Toronto, the club announced today.

General manager George Terlep said the 27-year-old player has agreed to terms and will sign a contract with Riders for this season with an option for next year.

The announcement clears up Stewart's status which has been in doubt since the start of the training season. Coach Frank Clair said then that he would not allow Stewart to commute between the gridiron and his law studies as he did last year.

Stewart failed to pass his law examinations last year, and Clair felt his play suffered because he could not attend enough practices.

"Ronnie has assured us that he will be able to practice more often this season because of his school schedule and, because of this, coach Clair has agreed to allow him to commute," Terlep said.

'Mercury Maury' Steals Three More Bases As L.A. Clips Bucs

Because Maury Wills, son of a Washington minister, refuses to adhere to the commandment "Thou shalt not steal," Los Angeles Dodgers are still in first place in the National League race by half a step. That was just about all Wills needed Sunday as he stole three more bases and helped the Dodgers defeat Pittsburgh Pirates 5-3 to protect their half-

Ex-Foes Help Brampton Lead Jr. Boxla Series

VICTORIA (CP)—Two players for Victoria, Nirmel Dillon and John Surinak had two each while Bill Robinson, Pat Mulcahy, Rod Kilduff and Grant Jordan added singles. Gary Drysdale replaced regular Brampton goaltender Pete Kito Saturday and turned in a brilliant effort with 27 saves. Shamrocks scored on their first three shots and led 4-3 after the first quarter. The teams were tied 6-6 at half-time and 8-8 after three quarters. Brampton received 32 of the game's 50 minutes in penalties. But Victoria could score only two power-play goals while Brampton managed one.

Abel Predicts New Faces For Red Wings

DETROIT (AP) — Seventy-eight hockey players turned out Saturday for Detroit Red Wings' opening 1962 practice session. "There's definitely going to be a lot of new faces on this club," said Sid Abel, whose Wings finished fifth in the National Hockey League last season and missed the playoffs. "Maybe six new players will make the club, possibly more," he said. Abel, because of his dual job as coach and manager, will have two assistant coaches—Gordie Howe and Bill Gadsby. Howe reported in top-notch condition for a season in which he hopes to become the leading goal scorer in NHL history.

Wills, hitting safely in his 17th consecutive game, singled with two men out in the third, promptly stole second and scored the game's first run on Jim Gilliam's single. Wills singled again in the fifth and stole his 85th base. Wills singled in the seventh, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored when Pittsburgh catcher Smokey Burgess hit him in the back with a pickoff attempt.

Clair Denies Calling Fatal Safety Touch

OTTAWA (CP) — Coach Frank Clair said Friday night he did not instruct his Ottawa Rough Riders to concede a safety touch in the dying minutes of their interlocking Canadian Football League game here against Winnipeg Blue Bombers. Bombers won the game 31-28 on a single point and the safety touch, conceded by halfback Whit Tucker. Winnipeg was leading 29-28 with about three minutes left to play in the game when Tucker, one of the deep men on a third-down Bomber kick, caught the ball at his own goal line. He hesitated for a moment, then stepped back over the line. He was immediately tackled by a swarm of Winnipeg players. Bill Munroe scored four times

Germans Sweep Honors At World Rowing Meet

LUCERNE, Switzerland (CP) — German oarsmen captured five gold medals at the world rowing championships which wound up Sunday while the Soviet Union and France collected one apiece.

The strong German contingent won gold medals in the coxed and coxless pairs, the coxed and coxless fours and in the big eights which saw Canada, represented by the University of British Columbia, finish sixth and last.

The Germans also took a bronze medal in the double sculls. The Soviet Union won the single sculls when Olympic gold medalist Viatcheslav Ivanov set a Rotsee Lake record in 7:07.09, bettering the previous time of 7:11.7 made by Switzerland earlier this year.

The French crew of Rene Duhamel and Bernard Monneron won the double sculls, with the Soviet Union second and the Germans third.

UBC oarsmen were entered in three events in the championships—the big eights, the coxless fours and the coxless pairs. They managed to reach the finals in the big eights only.

The German crew won the eights final in 5:50.83, followed by the Soviet Union in 5:53.56, France in 5:55.36, Italy in 5:57.10, Australia in 5:58.85 and Canada in 6:00.15.

ROW FOR CANADA
Rowing in the eights for Canada were Trevor Wilson, Peter Hewlett, Rodney Browne, Donald Dewar, Richard Bordewick, Max Wiczorek, Marc Lemieux, Daryl Sturdy and coxswain Ashley Luckey.

The United States finished fifth in the coxed pairs and third in the single sculls.

The Soviet Union got three silver medals and two bronze medals in addition to the gold medal while France, also got two silver medals and a bronze medal.

Canadian oarsmen John Leckey and Herbert Chailier of the UBC team finished ninth earlier Sunday in the coxless pairs to determine the placings in the seven-to-12 position. Their time was 7:13.64.

Also finishing ninth in 6:30.48 in the coxless fours were UBC oarsmen Roy McIntosh, Thomas

Buckeyes Picked For Rose Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—If the men who vote in The Associated Press pre-season football poll are right, only the faculty can keep Ohio State out of the Rose Bowl this season. The Buckeyes, whose 8-0-1 won-lost-tied slate last season was good for second behind Alabama (10-0), were an overwhelming favorite to take the national championship this year.

Ohio State lost the trip to the Rose Bowl last year by a rejection of the university's faculty senate.

The defending champion Alabama crimson tide were tagged for third in the pre-season voting, behind Texas.

223 yards in a losing cause. He scored a touchdown on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Don Getty, converted it and kicked an 11-yard field goal.

The result moved Calgary into second place in the WFC, three points behind Winnipeg Blue Bombers, one point ahead of Edmonton and B.C. Lions and two ahead of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

The Stampeders broke a scoreless battle with 10 points in the second quarter and led 10-0, entering a tension-packed final quarter. Quarterback Eagle Day passed for two touchdowns, the first a 17-yard strike in the second to rookie half Jim Dillard of Oklahoma State and the second a sensational 75-yard pass-and-run play to half Ed Buchanan late in the final quarter.

Halfback Larry Robinson converted both touchdowns and kicked a field goal from the Edmonton 14.

End Vic Chapman kicked a third-quarter single from the Calgary 31 and end Jim Letcavits was credited with a single when he fumbled into the Calgary end zone and the ball was recovered by Calgary to round out the Edmonton scoring.

The Stampeders, guided by Day for all but two plays, picked up 17 first downs on 34 yards rushing and 310 through the air. Day hit on 13 of 22 pass attempts.

Getty, taking over as first string quarterback with all-star Jackie Parker out for at least a month with a broken collar bone, moved the Eskimos for 20 first downs. Edmonton picked up 151 yards rushing and 215 passing, as Getty was good on 14 of 25 attempts.

Determined Fulham Snaps Star Studded Everton's Win Streak

By M. McINTYRE HOOD
Special to The Daily Courier
LONDON — How are the mighty fallen. Everton's million-dollar team came down to London expecting a walkover at Fulham would keep their unbeaten record intact. I went to Craven Cottage to see the slaughter of the injury-ridden Fulham by the all-star Everton line-up. And there I saw dogged determination and ceaseless energy triumph over the skill and science of the league leaders. When it was all over, Fulham had won, Everton's unbeaten record was gone, and Wolves, now the only undefeated team in the first division of the English League, are on top of the table.

Enough to settle the issue. Everton resorted to tough tactics and aroused the ire of the crowd. I was surprised that the referee did not order Everton left back Thompson off the field after a slashing tackle of Legatt.

But all of this made it one of the most exciting games I have seen for a long time. And millions of pools coupons were rendered valueless by this unexpected Everton defeat.

HOW THEY STAND
Wolves, with four victories and one draw in five games, now head the table, with Everton and Tottenham tied one point behind. At the other end of the table are West Ham and Manchester City, with only one point each from their first five games.

A defeat and a draw in their last two games have toppled Chelsea from the top of the second division. The Pensioners are finding that the road to a return to the first division is not going to be easy.

While no second division team has collected full points, three of them, Portsmouth, Norwich

QPR IN THE LEAD

Queen's Park Rangers are on top in the third division, but three other clubs, Southend, Peterborough and Watford are even with the Rangers on points.

Four teams in this division have still to suffer their first defeat—Queen's Park Rangers, Peterborough, Colchester and Millwall.

To Mansfield Town of the fourth division goes the distinction of being the only English League club to collect full points so far, with five successive wins.

Oldham, Darlington and Stockport are still unbeaten, but drawn games have cost them points. Oldham and Darlington, two points behind Mansfield, are tied for second place.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE CUP
The preliminary rounds of the Scottish League cup are now over, and nine clubs have qualified to go on into the knock-out rounds for the trophy. The qualifiers, who have won their sections in the preliminaries, are Kilmarnock, Hearts, Patrick Thistle, Rangers, Berwick, St. Johnstone, Queen of the south, Morton and Dumbarton.

In section six, St. Johnstone and Clyde were tied on points, but a goal record of 18 for and 7 against, while Clyde had 17 for and 7 against gave the Perth team the leadership and the right to go further in the competition.

KILLED ON HIGHWAY
Crystal Palace lost their talented forward Ronald Brett, 24, when he was killed in an automobile crash at Pinner, in the car with him when it crashed into a truck at 2 a.m. was Brian Rhodes, reserve goalkeeper of West Ham United. Rhodes was injured, but not seriously. Brett went to Crystal Palace from West Ham towards the end of last season as part of the deal whereby Palace transferred Johnny Byrne to the Hammers.

Will Brussels Be Swayed In Commonwealth Trade?

LONDON (CP) — Common-wealth leaders will talk of Com-monwealth trade here next EEC negotiations resume in week, but their thoughts will stray across the channel to Brussels.

The big question: Will Brussels, capital of the European Economic Community, be swayed by what they say? Britain, bidding to join the EEC's prospering Common Market, already has learned in the Brussels negotiations much of what this move likely would mean in repercussions on the Commonwealth's treasured trade ties with Britain.

Now the other Commonwealth partners, in private talks beginning Monday, have probably their last chance to work for a lessening of the impact on them.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Friday Canada may press for reconsideration of some of the tentative trade arrangements already worked out by Britain at Brussels.

Other Commonwealth members would be affected to a greater or lesser degree. Other prime ministers have said that they, too, will be seeking a better deal.

The British government is in the middle. Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath, Britain's chief Common Market negotiator, has the chore of presenting the apparent approach is that there's a fair chance of getting the Common Market to agree to better safeguards on British products, industrial raw materials, and perhaps even manufactured goods.

And Diefenbaker's statement that expanded Commonwealth trade may be an alternative to EEC membership for Britain made it apparent that his government still considers it possible that Britain will decide against joining.

Supporting this argument are statistics showing a marked growth in two-way trade between Canada and Britain since 1957.

On the other hand, Prime Minister Macmillan argued this week that it's better to have a smaller part in a growing European market than a larger part in a diminishing Commonwealth market.

About 40 per cent of British exports go to the Commonwealth and 15 per cent to the Common Market six. But trade figures show no upturn in total sales to the Commonwealth in recent years.

The Canadian government talks here will range over a huge, complex field of varied trade interests.

But the Canadian government's worry is over the Common Market plan for price supports and EEC farm production and variable import levies to bring the price of imported foodstuffs up to this level.

OPINIONS VARY

Informed opinions here on whether the six EEC countries will modify their terms for British membership range from pessimism to guarded hopefulness.

The Canadian government estimates that British entry into the EEC, on present terms, would adversely affect a majority of its more than $800,000,000 in annual exports to Britain.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker indicated Friday Canada may press for reconsideration of some of the tentative trade arrangements already worked out by Britain at Brussels.

Other Commonwealth members would be affected to a greater or lesser degree. Other prime ministers have said that they, too, will be seeking a better deal.

The British government is in the middle. Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath, Britain's chief Common Market negotiator,

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
YOU CAN make giant strides now by strengthening your contacts with individuals or organizations that can utilize your special abilities. Fine Mercury influences also encourage written matters, communications generally and social activities.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that you are currently in a good cycle where money matters are concerned. You should be able to earn more and save more and, if you are especially careful not to "upset the apple cart" in October, year's end should find your bank book in good shape. It's important, however, that you use your best judgment in handling your finances, and that you avoid extravagance and speculation.

Where job matters are concerned, you should not have too many serious problems to combat, either. In fact, by using your skills and talents to the utmost, you should be able to advance considerably—especially during the current month in December and the first six months of 1963. Generous influences govern your personal life, too.

This month, December and mid-1963 give promise of stimulating social activity (also romance) and your domestic life should be free of shadows. All in all, a pleasant outlook!

A child born on this day will be endowed with the qualities to make an excellent teacher, critic or physician.
